

Gift Giving 101

There are cultural differences in what people think is appropriate or a good idea for a gift. Imagine all the people receiving these gifts grew up here. Discuss whether you think each gift would be suitable and why. Is it different in your culture? If yes, how so?

1.  Jars of expensive jam from the farmers' market for your friendly neighbours.

2. A sexy bra and underwear set for a pretty female classmate.

3.  A box of chocolates for your manager at work.

4. A bottle of wine for your back doctor who helped you so much.

5.  A pretty blouse for your daughter's soccer coach.

6. A tie for your boss.

7.  A beautiful umbrella from the art gallery for your friend.

8. An expensive pen for your son's English teacher who helped him a lot.

9.  $25 in a nice envelope for your friend.

10. An expensive kitchen knife for your upstairs neighbours who gave you a drill.

11.  A $30 gift certificate for your friend from her favourite store.

12. A cute stuffed animal for your son's 28-year-old girlfriend.

13.  A beautiful clock for your new friends, a husband and wife.

14. A beautiful pair of earrings ($26.99) for the owner of the company you work for.

15.  Two pairs of pantyhose for your babysitter who likes to wear skirts and dresses.

16. A leather belt for your classmate from India who helped you move.

17.  A bottle of perfume for your daughter's tutor.

18. A beautiful ballerina figurine for your accountant who helped you so much.

19.  A table lamp for your helpful neighbours.

20. A cat for your daughter-in-law. 